City Again Able To Give Employment

County Votes Funds For Work On Spreading Grounds And Settling Basins

The first extensive employment to be furnished by the City since street improvement projects were stopped by court proceedings several months ago, was assured as an immediate certainty Monday when the County Supervisors approved the Council's resolution requesting the allocation of $2000 for flood control work and improvement of the Sierra Madre settling basins and spreading grounds.

At a fixed rate of 40 cents per hour, it is estimated that between two and three months' employment, or 554 and a fraction man days will be furnished local workers. Ten men will be employed for eight-hour days, and the amount of work allotted every man will be determined by the city and the County Stabilization Bureau according to the need and circumstances of the individual.

The city will take applications for labor, submitting the list of names to the Stabilization officials for approval. Men and equipment are to be strictly confined to Sierra Madre.

"We are through with red tape," stated Business Manager Al Myers as word of the Supervisors' favorable action reached him Monday. "There is nothing now to stand in the way of men being put to work immediately. Our slogan, 'Employment before Christmas,' has proved to be more than an optimistic catchphrase."

Detailed plans of the project itself have been drawn up by Assistant City Engineer Jack Hosford. An intake and sand-trap is to be constructed on Sycamore at West Grand View, and a 164 foot parkway conduit to be built from there to the northwest bounds of the water department property. Altogether 3,800 feet of conduit ditches, 5 feet in width, will be made to facilitate the operation of the settling basins. A diversion dam on the spreading grounds will so part the waters that it will flow into both the old basins and the new ones that are now being made.

An accurate table will be kept at the wells of the additional water which will be made available through this work, and of the benefits derived.

Whatever work is done on the local flood control and water supply system will be distinctly permanent improvement and it was because of this that the county made necessary funds available.

Eventually, Mr. Myers says, street work will be resumed, but the water project offers the surest means of unemployment relief through the winter. Five men are employed, however, on street improvement at present. Old wooden culvert coverings were replaced by concrete boxes at the intersection of Hermosa and Highland, and the same is being done at Auburn and Central. Excessive dips and rough crossings are thus being eliminated.

At the corner of West Central and Baldwin gutters are being dug to afford better drainage, and rough paving is being torn up to be replaced by smooth roadway.

Five men were employed through the city to work on the landscaping and grading work being done at the Mater Dolorosa Monastery, Mr. Myers states. An additional five are employed by the County Stabilization Bureau on the Santa Anita Canyon roadwork.

Unemployed Plan Extension Of Their Co-operative Plan

The success of the food sale which was held by the women members of the local Co-operative Relief Association here last Saturday has encouraged that group to hold a general public meeting at the Windsor Lane office of the association this afternoon at 2 o'clock. All Sierra Madre women are invited to be present, and plans for further sales will be discussed. The committee in charge of the women's activities is composed of Mrs. J. W. Tyree, Mrs. R. O. Caukin and Mrs. H. F. Barton.

A survey to determine the number of children under school age here in need of milk is now under way. This information is called for by the County Food Administration, who in cooperation with the association, plans to furnish such a milk supply. Mrs. A. F. Snell has made the first batch of bread in the Congregational Church ovens to be distributed to the needy, and a regular system of baking and distribution will be perfected shortly.

Announcement is made that the junk business is expanding, and that it will be appreciated if everyone with old papers and other reclaimable material will phone 352-1. A truck is on call to make junk collections. Proceeds from the sale of this material goes for the purchase of groceries for the unemployed warehouse, and there is no overhead to cut down the welfare money.

New Faces On Red Cross Directorate

Newly Chosen Board Votes To Extend Drive For Relief Contributions

Seven new directors were elected at the annual meeting of the local chapter of the Red Cross on Monday. The President and other executives will be chosen by the directors at a meeting on January 6.

Reports of various committees were made and plans for added effort toward reaching the roll call quota were disclosed. Chairman W. R. Humphries suggested that contribution boxes be set up at various points in the city.

The report of Mrs. Harry Holland, production chairman, stated that a quantity of articles have been made to send to various veterans' hospitals. Twelve Christmas bags, six bedside bags, 30 comfort pillows, six pillow slips, three sweaters, two layettes, at a total cost of $35 were made. Miss Elizabeth Steinberger gave a report of the Junior Red Cross, and told of the members' garden planting work and of the Easter favors which were sent to a children's hospital in San Fernando.

The following new directors were elected: Fire Chief W. D. Richards, Thomas Meador, Rev. Father Hyacinth Clarey, J. W. Corr, C. W. Jones, Elmer Pulling, and Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard.

Hold-over directors include Mrs. J. O. Smith, Hortense Hill, Rev. Arnold G. Bode, Mrs. E. R. Thompson, Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, Mrs. Ellen Coll Barker, Miss Clara Sykes, Miss Lalla Fagge, Mrs. Jessica H. Wright, Mrs. Harry Holland, Miss Lydia Webster, Miss Marion Vannier, Mrs. Fred Griebel, Mrs. M. D. Welsher, Mrs. C. W. Bowen, and Chairman Humphries.

The teachers at the grammar school were reported this week as having subscribed one hundred percent. Below is the list of subscriptions and pledges which have been collected by workers since (Continued on Page Six)

Santa's Aids Cautioned On Mailing

No Delivery Anywhere On Christmas Day Or Day Following This Year

With Christmas just around the corner, Postmaster Jessica Wright warns those who are planning to send their gifts by mail to mail early. She says:

"As Christmas comes on Sunday this year and Monday is a legal holiday, there will be no mail delivered anywhere in the country on Sunday the 24th, or Monday the 25th, except special delivery."

"Therefore packages and letters should be mailed early enough to insure their delivery by Saturday night. For the far East, packages should be mailed 10 days ahead, by the 14th or 15th. As the distance shortens, the time necessary does also, but it is wise to allow at least two days above normal time."

"We are receiving many inquiries about rates on Christmas cards. Such cards, with no writing except name and address of sender, may be mailed in unsealed envelopes for 1 1/2 cents each. In sealed envelopes they take the first class rate, the same as letters, 3 cents, and as much written on them as the sender wishes."

"For the few days before Christmas, the volume of letters and cards increases approximately two hundred per cent. Therefore it is impossible to deliver before Christmas, cards mailed the last minute. In this office we can guarantee delivery on Saturday of all cards mailed here not later than Friday night. Of course we will do our best to get everything cleaned up before we close Saturday night, but we can't promise delivery on cards mailed Saturday."

You see, extra help isn't of much use because someone acquainted with the routes has to route and tie up the packages and our regular force is limited. One pair of hands can handle only so many pieces of mail in an hour, even under full steam. "All packages should be securely wrapped and packed. Use strong paper or boxes and heavy twine. Valuable mail should be insured or registered."

"Christmas is not a good time to mail articles easily broken. With tons and tons of sacks piled in the cars and trucks, it is apt to go hard with dainty little doodads, or cut glass, or such, packed in a light box and at the bottom of the sack at the bottom of the pile. And such things seem to have a fatal faculty of reaching bottom. All breakable articles must be labeled 'Fragile.'"

"For the men's attention: Boxes of cigars wrapped in paper will not be accepted. They must be packed to avoid damage from shock or jar. "The limit of weight for parcel post packages is 70 pounds and a package cannot exceed 100 inches in length and girth combined. Measure the long way once and around once and add the two. Even a fraction of an inch over will cause the package to be refused."

"Senders should put their own name and address on the upper left hand corner and the name and address of the receiver on the lower right hand corner of one side of the package only. Ink should be used, not pencil which rubs and blurs. Thousands of packages go astray every year because of poorly written addresses. It takes only a few more minutes to write it plainly and it may save a big disappointment."

"Tell our people that the clerks cannot wrap, tie or address packages for them, they have too much else to do. All packages should be ready to go when brought to the window. "My staff is very proud of the record they have had for many years for efficient handling of the Christmas rush and they appreciate the cooperation they have had from our public. With the same cooperation this year, we are confident there will be no delayed gifts to be blamed on us. We are all ready to be Santa's delivery force in Sierra Madre."

HAPGOOD ELECTED PRESIDENT OF NEW DEMOCRATIC CLUB

George E. Hapgood was elected chairman of the newly organized Democratic Club No. 1 of the 48th Assembly District at a meeting in Lamanda Park Wednesday. W. O. Carlson is vice chairman, E. W. J. Schlitz, secretary and E. H. Hoebel, treasurer. At the next regular meeting, which will be announced by the chairman soon, various committees and other officers will be appointed and elected.

FOOTHILL BREAKFAST AND BRIDLE CLUB ORGANIZED HERE HAS AMBITIOUS PLANS

A Foothill Bridge and Breakfast Club, with its centre in Sierra Madre to take full advantage of the beautiful vistas offered the horseman here, was formed by a group of 20 local sportsmen and women at a meeting in the Legion quarters of the City Hall Tuesday evening. Doctor Frank Wilson was named temporary chairman, W. J. Lawless, treasurer, and Norman Jensen, secretary.

With the intention of petitioning the City Council to legislate certain thoroughfares surrounding and within the city as bridle paths, the group hopes for trails making a complete circle of the city. It is planned to have the club meet every Sunday for breakfast.

Membership will not be limited to Sierra Madre, but will eventually include all of the foothill communities from Altadena on the east. When such time comes that a clubhouse may be built it will, of course, be built here where the neucleus of the organization will always be.

A survey made at the initial meeting on Tuesday, at which 20 people were present, showed that at least 50 riding horses are available in Sierra Madre.

Certain enthusiasts stated that if proper bridle paths are assured they will be able not only to induce many out-of-town sportsmen to join the club, but to come here to live. With the support of such well known horsemen as W. J. Lawless, the E. B. DeGroots, Dr. and Mrs. Wilson, Ole Hanson and others, the charter members believe that there is a fine possibility that in the not so far future Sierra Madre will possess in its midst a social and sporting institution comparable to the Los Angeles Breakfast Club, El Rodeo, and similar widely publicized groups.

The next meeting has been tentatively set for December 27, in the same place as before. A year's dues have already been collected from the small number of founder members, so that before that time action will have been started to secure the city's cooperation in establishing the paths, and in working out details of organization and operation, it is stated.

Dislike Of Latins For U.S. Is Told

Missionary Priest Interests Kiwanis With Story Of South American People

Rev. Father Isadore Dwyer, who is now at the Mater Dolorosa Monastery in Sierra Madre after many years spent in missionary work in the Latin American countries, gave one of the most interesting and educational talks that the Kiwanis club has enjoyed during the past year at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of that organization.

He pleaded for a closer understanding between this country and Mexico and South America, stating that a reciprocal rather than a one-sided tariff and a greater willingness on our part to let the Southern people live their own kind of lives would result in our receiving trade that should have been ours instead of Europe's from the beginning.

Telling of how he, who was born in the Northernmost part of Michigan, the son of American pioneers, took three years to begin to see the varied philosophies of the Indian, the Mexican and the Spaniard, Father Isadore said:

"We call them lazy and improvident, but in that rich tropical country where food comes easy to them, they are really only wise. They think that money is made to be spent. After it is all gone they think about getting some more."

In South America, Father Isadore told, there are no social barriers such as the ones imposed (Continued on Page Three)

Life In Greenwich Village To Be Told By Former Resident

"Reminiscences of Greenwich Village," will be the subject for what promises to be a very interesting talk to be given by Mrs. Alfred James Dewey next Wednesday at the luncheon table at the Sierra Madre Woman's Club.

Mrs. Dewey, who is well-known in the community, lived for many years in Greenwich Village, where she came in contact with many well-known characters and personalities.

The board meeting at 10 o'clock in the morning will be followed by a presentation of Living Madonnas by Mrs. Luther A. Rice, producer, and Mrs. Fred Griebel, sponsor, at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Rice, who resides in Baldwin Park, will bring part of her cast the others will be Sierra Madre artists.

A pilgrimage to the Prentiss gardens, South Pasadena, has been announced by Mrs. W. J. Lawless, chairman of Garden Section of the Club, for Thursday, December 15. A drive past the Huntington estate to view the aloe gardens, which are at present in full bloom, will be another enjoyable feature of the day. The return home will include a visit to Singer Park, Pasadena. All those planning to attend are to meet at the clubhouse at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. Each person must bring her lunch, including beverage. The party plans to return at 2 o'clock.

City Mourns Passing Of Mrs C W Hart

Mistress Of Famous "Hartwood" Estate Was Southland Social Leader

The community was saddened this week by the passing of one of its most loved residents, Mrs. Cornie Whitney Hart, who died unexpectedly at her home at "Hartwood," in Sierra Madre Villa, on Sunday.

An illness several years ago left Mrs. Hart in a weakened condition, although she has been able to continue her active interest in civic work here, and her last illness lasted only two days. One of the most prominent of Southern California society women, she was a charter member of the Friday Morning Club, and the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, the Dickens Fellowship Club and the Modern Priscillas.

A resident of Sierra Madre for the past 22 years, she came to California 45 years ago from Meadville, Pa., where she was born 69 years ago. She was the widow of Frank J. Hart, founder of the Southern California Music company. Surviving are two sons, Karl W. Hart of Sierra Madre, and Harold W. Hart of Altadena, and one granddaughter, Marguerite Hart.

A prominent member of the Garden Section of the local Woman's Club, Mrs. Hart took a great interest in her gardens and has received awards for the beautiful flowers and plants at her home too numerous to mention.

In respect to her memory the local Delphian Society, of which she was a member, postponed its meeting on Thursday to the following Tuesday morning. The Modern Priscillas cancelled their meeting and the organ recital, to have been given at the Church of the Ascension on Sunday, was postponed.

A memorial is being planned by the local organizations and friends to be erected to the memory of her service in this community.

The body lay in state at the Grant Funeral Parlor until Thursday morning, when funeral services were conducted by Dean Arnold G. H. Bode at the Episcopal Church where she was a member. H. D. Jackson, a relative, was organist at the services. "Sunshine of Your Smile," the favorite song of Mrs. Hart, was rendered by Mrs. Janet Stephenson Wood and Mrs. Howard Lieben sang "Beautiful Land on High." Pallbearers, friends of the deceased for many years, were Judge G. A. Gibbs, B. B. Mann, W. J. Saunders, F. H. Smithson, W. J. Lawless, W. F. Goodban, R. M. Hovey, E. W. Camp, W. M. Hathaway, J. A. Stitt and Dr. Frank Inverarity.

Interment followed at Hollywood Mausoleum.

Winners Of Art Poster Contest Out

Work Of Elmer Weese And Dorothy Walsworth Receive Greatest Vote

By Henry Ivins Hawthurst
Never in the history of our community has any coming performance received such splendid, artistic publicity as has "The Captive Man," Henry Gordon's risqué comedy, to be presented as a benefit for the Municipal Art League tomorrow night.

It was accomplished through the medium of 16 exceptionally clever posters, done by members of the League. These posters are placed in the windows of our local business firms and we believe our residents have been well informed about the performance that none should miss.

Here is a record that every Sierra Madrean should be proud of—"The Captive Man" was written by a local playwright, the cast are members of the local Community Players and the poster display was created by local Art League members. And last, but by no means least, the scenery was produced under the capable direction of Mr. Corlett and by golly if that isn't a hundred per cent score for Sierra Madre talent I don't know what is.

Among those students who so generously contributed their talents and imagination, to put the poster publicity over in a big way, were Miss Sally Sellers, Dorothy Walsworth, C. A. Nichols, Elmer M. Weese, John Copeland, Jack Young and Bud Walsworth. To each one of these I wish to extend my own and the most hearty thanks of the League's governing board for their wonderful cooperation and compliment them on their unusually clever posters.

The popular vote for first and second prize is as follows:

First prize—a year's subscription to The Sierra Madre News went to Elmer Weese with a vote of 260.

Second prize was won by Dorothy Walsworth who is one of the youngest members of the League, with a vote of 170, and her prize is a box of Art Point Christmas cards.

Winners will receive the awards by calling at The News Office.

In addition to the awarding of the above prizes, by The News, Henry Gordon, the Sierra Madre Players and the Art League, desire to express their appreciation to all named here who so generously contributed the poster work, by giving each one two reserved seat tickets for tomorrow's performance of "The Captive Man." These tickets may be secured at The News Office, so be sure and call for them either Friday, or Saturday before noon.

Tonight, at 8:30, in the Woman's Club House, there will be an illustrated lecture by the noted artist, George Barker. This lecture is being sponsored by the Sierra Madre Players and thru their leader, Mrs. Milton Steinberger, have most generously extended an invitation to all Art League members to be present and enjoy Mr. Barker's talk.

Come on now all you Art Leaguers and let's show George Barker and the Sierra Madre Players that we appreciate this opportunity to enjoy an evening where we can improve our knowledge along cultural lines. Turn out and give them all a big hand.

"Captive Man," Charming Cocktail Of Modernistic Ideas, To Be Presented Tomorrow By Community Players

Perhaps the most apt description in a few words of Henry Gordon's "Captive Man" came from the director of a previous production, who described the play as "a charming cocktail of modernistic ideas." In other words the comedy carries a kick, and a pleasant one.

The serving of this dramatic cocktail will take place tomorrow evening under the capable supervision of Mrs. Pearl Steinberger to whom this community owes so much in the way of good entertainment.

This will be the last opportunity for local connoisseurs of spirituous comedy to get a taste of this one—at least within the city limits of Sierra Madre. The pre-sale of tickets has been of considerable volume and the best seats are going fast.

The production is being presented by the author, Henry Gordon, local playwright, and the Community Players as a benefit for the Municipal Art League.

Suit To Stop Payment For Improvement

East Central Ave. Property Owners Ask Court To Prevent Collection

INJUNCTION IS SOUGHT

Damages In The Amount Of $6,000 Also Asked In The Superior Court

Application for an injunction to restrain the City of Sierra Madre from collecting assessments on East Central avenue for the improvement of that thoroughfare has been filed in the Superior Court.

The action is designed to prevent the creation of assessment rolls for the improvement and in addition to the restraining order prayed for, damages in the amount of $6,000 are asked of the city.

Plaintiffs in the action are Harry L. Smith, Charles Brooks, Mary A. Wammock, F. M. Scott, Harry D. Pyle, Elizabeth M. Pyle, George S. Jones and Ole Hanson, all East Central avenue property owners.

R. A. Linn, who represented a local political organization which filed suit to prevent the city from carrying on its unemployment relief work through the operation of ordinance No. 348, under which various streets were being paved, appears as attorney in this latest action.

The bill of complaint filed by Linn sets forth that ordinance No. 348 having been declared invalid, the city is without legal authority to collect any assessments for work done under the ordinance's operation.

As a matter-of-fact, assessment rolls were completed several months ago and 40 per cent of the assessments have already been paid for out of the general fund, from which any damages that might be allowed would also have to be taken.

An effort is being made to form an organization of Canyon Park property owners to resist payment of assessments for Canyon Park road improvements recently completed. A petition in circulation proposes to engage Mr. Linn as attorney for $400, to represent the objecting property owners. It is contended that the city has levied a surplus assessment to cover possible delinquencies.

Mr. Linn addressed a meeting of the disaffected property owners two weeks ago, outlining his plan to resist the payments.

Breakfast Will Be Served Holy Name Group At St. Rita's

Men and youths who are members of the Holy Name Society will attend a Holy Communion at St. Rita's Church Sunday morning, and hear a special address by Rev. Father Edmund, superior of the Passionist Monastery here. Father Edmund will tell of the laymen retreats that are conducted weekly at the Monastery and of the beneficial results that are obtained by attending them.

After the services those present will be served breakfast in the auditorium dining room. Practically every man and boy at St. Rita's is a member of the Holy Name group, so a large attendance is expected.

$400,000 In Purses To Bring Country's Finest Thoroughbreds To Great New Racing Plant At Santa Anita Park

Promoter Joseph Smoot, of the Santa Anita race track, told more of his plans for the 40-day annual race meets to be held by the Los Angeles Jockey Club, in which $400,000 in purses will be distributed.

"Our aim is to attract only the very best horses in the country," said Smoot, "and the events are arranged accordingly. There will be no purse under $1,000. We are assured now that the leading strings of the country will be with us during the opening meet in February and thereafter you can be sure they will be with us every winter."

"In addition to the $50,000 added California Derby and the added $25,000 Los Angeles Handicap, we have announced an added $10,000 Motion Picture Stars

Handicap and an added $12,500 added race for California foaled and bred race horses.

"Besides these events there will be several stakes and a number of overnight handicaps. The total distribution will approximate $400,000."

Erection of the stables to accommodate 740 horses is well under way now on the track at Sierra Madre avenue and Huntington Drive and construction of the grandstand, club house and other buildings will be under way before the stables are completed. Anticipating a good deal of rain in January, Smoot is hastening work on the track which is being built along the best known scientific lines to insure it being a fast track little affected by the elements.

GIRLS GYM AT WILSON TO BE COMPLETED NOW
George B. Morgridge, acting as spokesman for the Wilson Junior High School P.T.A. made a request before the Pasadena Board of Education on Tuesday that the girls' gymnasium of that school be completed in as short a time as possible to relieve the overcrowded and unsatisfactory conditions that exist there now, and the Board promised that such construction work would be authorized soon.

Juniors Of Woman's Club To Stage Real Hollywood Revue

Horns, balloons, a peppy orchestra and a dance contest were the features of a very successful dance, given recently by the Sierra Madre Junior Woman's Club. The dance was given to raise money for the scholarship fund. Miss Anna Green, Miss Cynthia Hull, Bob Stamer and Frank de Beaulieu were winners of the dance contest.

A group of girls are giving a Christmas program at the County Home for the Aged at Downey. Those participating will be Misses Cricket Calkin, Ruth Klunk, Irene Middough, Jane Holland, Pat Selk and Cynthia Hull. A musical revue is being rehearsed for presentation in February. It was written by two Hollywood playwrights for the club. Plans to include the entire club in the production are being arranged.

LOCAL ATHLETE WINS ATTENTION OF NOTED SPORTING WRITER

The second Sierra Madre athletic champion to be selected for the subject of Charles Paddock's daily sport interviews which appear in a Pasadena newspaper is Jack Young, president of the Pasadena Junior College student body and star quarterback on the upper division football team.

Paddock tells of Young's activity in the past as member of the lower and upper elevens, and of his possibilities as a track competitor in the dash events. Young, who is 21 years old, stands 6 feet in height, weighs 170, and expects to become both an artist and a coach after attending college at the University of Southern California. His art posters are well known to townspeople of this city.

FACTS NOT POPULAR

It is a strange trait of most humans that they care little for facts which would increase their store of real knowledge. We spend many hours reading trashy fiction, which, if devoted to the acquiring of useful information would make us really cultured.

With the greatest wonders of the universe overhead every night, few persons know the names of half a dozen stars. Few know or can distinguish the difference between a fixed star and a planet.

This is merely one illustration of how little interest is taken in the great facts of nature. Even with regard to current events, small attention is paid to new developments which mean so much to mankind. The greatest discoveries of science are hardly ever discussed, while details of the latest murder are on every tongue.

While a relatively few people in the world are giving thought to the marvelous developments of our wonderful age, the vast majority confine their reading and conversations to a narrow range of the most trivial subjects. Facts worth knowing are not popular.

BOYS & GIRLS

Billy Holmes, a student at the Texas Technical College, recently eliminated his father and brother and won the Shamrock City golf championship.

Little Peggy St. John recently won a bathing beauty contest over 40 competitors at Rogers, Ark.

Johnny Williamson, a five-year old boy, traveled alone from Scotland, where he lived with his grandparents, to the home of his mother and father in Brooklyn.

Jerome Smith, 17-year old lad of Monrovia, entered the first miniature autogiro ever seen on the Pacific Coast at the annual model exhibition held in Pasadena.

Margaret Lewis of Wyandotte High School, Kansas City, Kan., is first national prize winner in a feature story contest.

At a wedding in Twickenham, Eng., 5-year old triplets, Barbara, Pamela and Bruce Featherstone acted as bridesmaids and page.

State Adds To Value Of Local Road

Santa Anita Highway Becomes More Important With New Recommendation

With the recommendation of an appropriation of $450,000 for the completion of the roadway past Switzer's camp in the Arroyo Seco which would connect at Red Box in the mountains back of Sierra Madre with the Big Santa Anita shortcut to the desert, added importance was given this week to the extensive plan to make of the entire backcountry a gigantic playground of scenic beauty.

Announcement of the recommendation, which has been forwarded to the State Highway Commission in Sacramento by Chief Engineer S. V. Cortelyou of the Commission, was made at a banquet at Switzer's Camp last Monday. The project is being pushed by the Pasadena Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Los Angeles City Council, and the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Forest Supervisor William Mendenhall stated that 27 per cent of the territory of Los Angeles County is comprised of mountains and that when this region is made easily accessible to tourists and Californians the resultant value will be beyond estimation. He pictured the beautiful scenery especially to be seen at Charlton Flats, through which the Crest roadway will pass.

The two roads, the one entering the mountains from the Santa Anita canyon at Sierra Madre, and the other from the upper Arroyo, will form a distorted Y, meeting almost directly in back of this city, and continuing as one highway back to the desert. Either route will cut many miles from the present route to Palmdale and the desert.

Local Sport Paragraphs

By John Copeland

THE BRUIN football team has either been terribly over-rated all year or Washington (in the last game of the season) finally snapped into an exceptionally strong machine.

Except for the brilliant play of Muller at right end, the UCLA gang looked phoney. This Muller is about as aggressive and speedy a boy as we've ever spotted. He has a knack of cutting in, swarming over the ball carrier's back after that gentleman has crashed through center; and we didn't see him sucked in on a play once during the Saturday game.

McGue must have been up against an opposing tackle better than any he had played against previously. He didn't turn in the performance he did against Stanford, anyhow.

People with names ending in "sky" and "witch" seem to make the best football players. Take for example Mr. Silkosky of Washington. Through the glasses we saw him go through the whole California team, bouncing off tacklers, straight-arming tacklers, hip wriggling past tacklers for thirty-five yards or so. His full-back work was as good as any Brovelli has done. As with all Rockne system fulls, he not only had punch, but he was fast and shifty.

Speaking of speed, there was Ahonen, halfback, who as far as we noticed, was never stopped short of the secondary defense. He was almost laying over flat on his elbow on the turns.

While we were seeing the above rather unamusing spectacle it seems the PJC Bulldogs were battling to beat heck in defeating Riverside 12-7.

After being mopped all around in the first half by a line outweighing their own by 13 pounds to the man, the Pasadena men came back in the third and fourth quarters.

Led by the inspired playing of Captain Les Miller and Jack Young, who come from Sierra Madre, y'know, the outfit are now undisciplined Southern California Champs.

Miller started things at the kickoff of the second half by returning the ball to his own 37 yard line. Young knifed through to the Riverside 44, and kept on knifing until he got down to the 8. Then he was knocked cold and was taken out of the ball game. So that score was made by Stark a bit later.

In the fourth period the swell defensive work of Miller put Riverside in the hole, and Les himself went over for the deciding points.

As to racing, mon efantes, S.M. is there. Yes suh! Now there are two racing jilopes winning laurels and things. Messrs. Wayne Morrison and Al Belohlavek.

At Burbank Sunday the two of them pretty near cleaned the slates. Al got first in the 10-lap, won the 25-lap main event, third in the helmet dash, and turned in the fastest qualifying time.

Wayne, whose bug was driven by Frank Wearne of Pasadena, was second in the qualifying time, took second in the helmet dash. He had a little engine trouble to handicap him during the day.

Tomorrow is the day of days, dispute us not. Many questions are going to be answered.

Is Notre Dame going to repeat that 1930 westward march?

What has Jones been holding out by way of deceptive plays all year in preparation for the Irish? Or has he?

Will Spurling come through with end play sufficiently rapier-like to smear some of the Irish's laterals, spinner-and-a-halves, etc?

Will Griffith definitely establish himself as being on a par with Shaver? Or is it up to Warburton (who has always impressed us as being the smart boy of the layout)?

And after Notre Dame, win or lose, there comes the last spectre of the season for S.C. In the potent shape of the Pitt Panthers. When or, cautiously speaking, if the rambling levinskies are repelled, there still remains eleven fellers who have already turned that little trick.

In other words, not only is the Goliath to be reckoned with, but too the David.

Tennis notes: Mr. Fuller says the robin will come to a logical conclusion—come to a conclusion, at least. He and Wes Perry play Sunday. Should be an interesting match.

Jack Young and some others from here, after football Saturday, were observed at the Beverly hostelry in festive rather than sportive mood.

Too bad. Old Pop Warner and beer went off the deep end the same day. There's still bright hopes for the latter next spring. Let's hope that the old fox fares as well at Temple U. in Philadelphia. His has been such a fine career in football that it would not be well for him to gradually go down.

In between football and next baseball season comes what? Bowling? Kiwanis has a team. O yes, indeed. They bowled last week in Monrovia.

Super-wing Pratt was hot, scoring about 200 after a horrifying start in which he missed the whole works.

We thought once or twice that THE NEWS would come out this week with headlines as follows: R. C. COPENHAVER DASHES BRAINS OUT AS FINGERS STICK TO BOWLING BALL; BODY HURLLED LENGTH OF ALLEY; LOOKS LIKE TAIL- END OF COMET; MAKES STRIKE AND KILLS PIN BOY IN COLLISION.

Local Bowlers Get Into Action: Learn Purpose Of Alleys

Getting their nine right or left arms warmed up for future competitions, the Kiwanis club members inclined toward athletics attended a bowling bee Tuesday night for a practice session in Monrovia. Some of them didn't know the gutter from a frame, but all of them had a great time, and some of the rankest beginners rolled up the highest scores.

Waverly Pratt, sometime pitcher for the Legion ball team, with an average score of 165, was top man. That after missing even the alley on his first two heaves. It was Mr. Pratt's first bowl. The other eight wrists that were sore Wednesday morning are owned by Doc John Woehler, William Middough, Officer Jim Heasley, A. F. Tegtmeyer, Cy Young, Jack Hosford, Clarence Huntsinger and R. C. Copenhaver. The list is not in the order of superiority. All but the weightiest of them (Doc Woehler, Mr. Pratt) almost threw themselves after the ball at least once during the evening.

Sue Klinko, who is a member of the other Sierra Madre bowling team, bested them all, and she is not a Kiwanis girl at all.

Priest Urges New Methods In Dealing With So. Americans

here on the negroes. The Indians are glad—indeed proud to be Indians, and try to be nothing more. The pure blooded whites, the Mexicans and the Indians all live side by side, still in a curious blend of pagan religion and Christianity. While the natives of Buenos Aires (which he said, is one of the largest cosmopolitan centers in the world) dislike Americans, that dislike may easily be overcome, for they are gratified by kindness and understanding.

Down there, Father Isadore continued, they have a great respect for the methods that have made possible such material conquests as exists in cities like New York, Chicago and similar places. Their explanation, however, is the seemingly paradoxical one that up here there is such honesty.

"I believe the man who told me that," said the priest, "meant business honesty—credit, the system under which checks, bills and so forth are honored pretty much without question. Down there every one examines each bit of currency carefully in the light, and here there is that difference."

Answering questions at the conclusion of his talk, Father Isadore said that while opportunities for the young man in South America aren't as great now as they were a generation ago, there are still many opportunities. He advised that every young man learn the Castilian language, as he thought that there would be an ever-increasing commerce and relationship in one form or another between the Americas.

W. E. Pratt, Charles Klunk, William Middough, R. C. Copenhaver and Frank Spencer were named to start to work on the club's annual Christmas party which will be held the Tuesday before Christmas. Announcement was made of a division meeting at Claremont a week from next Tuesday at which club presidents and trustees are expected to be present. A probable 10 members will go from here.

Carols And Tinkle Of Bells Forecast Big Event At School

Echoes of carols and the tinkle bells are faintly to be heard these days around and about the Sierra Madre grammar school, for on the 20th of the month the art, dramatic and music departments combine to put on the school's Christmas operetta. Under the direction of Miss Mary Pfahler the orchestra, which has not yet been heard from this semester, is hard at work practicing Noel. Further details, along with names of members of the cast will be revealed next Friday according to Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal.

Fire Flames

By one of the boys

FRIDAY NIGHTS are Firemen nights and whether it be the ladies or the men, the headquarters on this night are always in demand. Last Friday our ladies gathered there about twenty strong and the way they carried home broken dolls would indicate that they never grow old. Each one was allotted a broken doll to fix and the natural way they carried them in their arms displayed experience.

Some of the dolls are in bad shape, but when our Doll Doctors turn them over to Santa Claus for distribution they will look like Hollywood Stars.

It is the good luck of the night police and firemen to be on duty at the time of the Ladies meetings, but on this last Friday, Frank Lovell was fortunate enough to be a guest of the ladies. This was much to the pleasure of the "cops," for Frank had to bear the brunt of the joshing, and we doubt whether he will ever "blow in" again.

Those who are out selling tickets for the Big Party on December 17, report a fair sale and interest, but we are unable to report on Hibbs, our champion. We think Lee is keeping something up his sleeve.

Quite a number of the firemen are or have been victims of the "flu." Chief Richards was confined to his home for several days. Bill says the flu makes you feel as tho' you had been run over by a steam roller and then sprayed with an acid solution. In fact he said that "it burns you up." However, none of the Richards children took the dreaded illness.

We used to see Karger once in awhile between meeting nights, but now he is so occupied at home with the baby that to see him one must go there.

Louie knows the time the baby should be fed and how it should be dressed and how often it should cry and all about it, and if you can get him to talk anything except "baby talk," you will have to talk "twins."

Roy Shetler, the mail man, delivered to Jim Heasley's mail box a very small package the other day and then asked Jim if that was all that was left of the Buick he drove to Arizona.

While the boys of the fire department were busily engaged in burning a pile of brush at the Hoover home on North Sierra Madre avenue some time ago the Hoover children were very much interested and stood by all during the process. They were interested to know what happened when the siren blew and asked all the questions that are typical of a pure American kid.

Tonight will be the last meeting before the Big Party, so the final arrangements will have to be made. Several committees will be appointed by the Chief. Let's hope the "Punch" committee will be allowed plenty of sugar.

Let's try and be there before the "Fire's Out."

IN YOUR GARDEN

CALIFORNIA HOLLY
By Jessie Ward Russell

HAVE you noticed how very beautiful the native Christmas Berry plants are this season? The hot, dry autumn has been to their liking. Or perhaps you have not seen any, for they are not very plentiful. I wonder that they are not used more in the landscape garden. They have so many fine points to be considered.

As they are a native tree they will grow even if neglected, but we do not advise this treatment for under cultivation they grow luxuriantly and bear many more and larger berries. Unlike some of our native shrubs that will not stand pampering, the Christmas berry takes to food and water kindly and thrives upon it.

Naturally the California holly grows into a large bushy shrub, but it can be trained into a symmetrical tree with a single trunk if pruned and staked while young.

The tree form will make splendid avenue trees. They can be used also as specimen shade trees in the yard or up private drives.

The bush-form is very helpful for background planting in shrubbery masses or in shrubby borders along the property lines or wherever a large shrub is desired.

It is almost impossible to transplant a California Holly from its native state. But they will transplant readily from containers in which they have been grown. Therefore, they are grown in nurseries by changing them from one container to another as the roots expand, when transplanted into the ground at last they go right on growing as if they had never been disturbed. When once in their permanent position and given water and food, they grow remarkably fast and soon come into berry.

I have wondered sometimes why people who have pieces of rough land to waste where fruit trees can not profitably be grown, do not plant a grove of holly berries for there is a market for the berries at Christmas time.

Even one Christmas berry plant in the garden should supply the house with its Christmas decorations.

There are many shrubs that produce red berries at Christmas time that can easily be grown in the garden but somehow there is nothing that really suits for Christmas decorations as our own native Holly Berry or Photinea Arbutifolia, as it is called by the nursery man.

HANDS OFF
TRESPASS LAW
by RALPH H. TAYLOR
Sec. Agricultural Legislative Committee of California

NO tampering with the State trespass law! Such, in effect, is the sign posted by California farmers, in anticipation of the 1933 meeting of the Legislature.

State-wide farm organizations, judging from recent developments in discussions of the issue, will present a united front against any attempts to modify or weaken the trespass act.

Many business groups, including the State Chamber of Commerce, have gone on record as firmly opposed to any change in the present law, backing up the stand taken by the California Cattle-men's Association, the Agricultural Legislative Committee of California, the California Wool Growers Association and other outstanding farm bodies.

Strengthened at the last session of the Legislature after a prolonged and bitter battle, the trespass law will have added backing this year, due to the fact that the Senate, under the new reapportionment act, will be predominantly a rural house.

The present law, which permits an owner of unfenced and uncultivated land to post against trespass by placing signs on unfenced property at the rate of three to the mile, was directed chiefly against hunters, due to the heavy losses suffered by livestockmen.

Anglers, however, still enjoy broad privileges under the trespass act and will probably fight shy of a legislative skirmish which might react against them.

Certain it is that agriculture, already beset by problems which threaten its very existence, cannot afford to let down the bars to wholesale trespassing on farm property. The farmer's right to earn a living must take precedence over the sportsman's desire to hunt.

LACK OF MOISTURE
MAY DAMAGE MANY
CITRUS ORCHARDS

Citrus trees are still using moisture even though the irrigating season is nearly over, according to Farm Advisor W. H. Williams.

The "rainy season is upon us, but there is no rain," says Williams, "and growers who irrigate only according to the calendar may find their orchards full of 'off bloom' or badly burned by dry winds, provided the soil gets too dry."

The soil should be carefully examined by digging down at least a foot into the root zone and whenever the upper foot of the root zone is dry, water should always be applied. This allows for root growth to proceed and the trees to obtain a stronger condition for the support and sizing of the next set of fruit.

The score was 12-0. The local lineup includes Olsen, le; Evans, lt; Taylor, lg; Stivers, c; Elkin, fg; Orme, rt; Pulling, re; Urive, q; Nomura, lb; H. Elkin, rh; Adams, f.

Players To Enter
In Beverly Hills
Drama Tournament

The Players of Sierra Madre hold their regular monthly membership meeting tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Playshop of the Woman's clubhouse in connection with the Art Section of the Woman's Club. An illustrated lecture, "Quality in Painting," by the noted artist, George Baker, will be the feature of the meeting.

Announcement will be made to the Players' members of the group's participation in the one-act play tournament which is to be held in Beverly Hills February 23, 24 and 25. Each member will be asked to suggest a favorite one-act play which is considered favorable for production by the local players.

An attempt will be made to work whatever vehicle is chosen into a production which will add to the laurels of Sierra Madre as an amateur theatrical center. It will be remembered that several awards have been won in competition in Santa Ana and Los Angeles in the past.

COUNTRY'S RACING
STARS ALL ENTERED
FOR BIG ASCOT EVENT

The longest auto race attempted in Southern California in the past seven years is scheduled as a fitting climax to the 1932 season of racing at the Legion Ascot Speedway next Sunday afternoon, with the announcement yesterday by the Legion race board that a 200-lap race will be held.

Not since the old board track days at Beverly Hills and Culver City has a race of this length been held in Southern California. This will be the final race of 1932 at the local oval and, because of the length of the affair, the program will start at 2 o'clock. There will be two other events scheduled, the two-lap Italian Helmet Dash and the 15-lap Class B main event.

Every driver of importance throughout the country is now on the Pacific Coast and will be entered in this event, which means that the fans will see all the stellar pilots in action.

WRANGLERS PLAY AS UNEMPLOYED DANCE

An even larger crowd than has heretofore attended was presented at this Monday night's unemployed dance which was held for the first time in St. Rita's hall. Next Monday the Parish House will again house the affair, and from then on it will alternate between the two churches. The Texas Wranglers furnished both dance music and entertainment and were generously applauded.

QUAINT PLAYS IN A LOVELY ATMOSPHERE

The Little Theatre in Padua Hills in preparing a special Christmas program of outstanding interest in connection with the series of Mexican plays which are attracting such wide attention at the Little Theatre.

"Christmas at Mi Rancho Bonito," is the name of this new version which will feature the music and folk dances of Old Mexico. The first performance will be given on Friday evening, a Saturday afternoon, and Saturday evening, December 16 and 17, and continuing thereafter each week end until February 1. An exception to this schedule will be the first two week ends in January when the theatre is used by the Claremont Community Players.

KICK FOR ALL AGES
IN SAFEWAY SQUARE
PROGRAM OF SONGS

Young people will get a "kick" out of joining in the rah-rah words of "Hold 'Em," a 1932-model football song. Folks not so young will enjoy remembering such war-time favorites as "I May Be Gone for a Long, Long Time," or "Wait Till You Get Them Up in the Air, Boys." Then there will be "Long, Long Ago" and "Annie Laurie" for the old-timers.

Such, it is announced, is the very diversified character of the "memory song" program to be offered by "Safeway Square," the new KFI feature, this (Friday) evening, at 7:45 p.m. Safeway Square will be on the air again on Monday night, but at 7 p.m., 45 minutes earlier than Friday, this "staggered" schedule being the regular times of presentation.

RUN OF HENRY VIII
GOES INTO SECOND
WEEK AT PLAYHOUSE

With its current production of the Bard's "Henry VIII" entering a second week, beginning Tuesday night, December 6, the Pasadena Community Playhouse is placing William Shakespeare's name on their list of most popular authors.

The patronage of "Henry VIII" during the first week compares favorably with that of the most popular plays presented in the past six months. Therefore, the Moment" by S. N. Behrman; "Louder, Please" by Norman Krasna; "Peer Gyn" by Henry Ibsen and "A Plain Man and His Wife" by Sophie Keer.

Leslie Palmer, Norval Mitchell and Janet Scott head a cast of a hundred players—in addition to a bevy of Collette dancers, whose interpretation of "Katherine's Vision" has won enthusiastic praise.

Late Books By Noted Authors Among New Arrivals At Library

Three names important in modern literature appear among the authors of the new books added to the Sierra Madre public library shelves during November. In the fiction classification there is Somerset Maugham's "Narrow Corner," and Galsworthy's "Flowering Wilderness." Hamlin Garland contributes a non-fiction volume entitled "My Friendly Contemporaries."

A gain of but 352 library borrowers marks the month's record over last year. Adult and juvenile books in circulation for November numbered 4,919. Twenty-eight new patrons registered for borrower's privileges. Below are listed the new books:

Fiction—"Prologue to Love," Ostenson; "Fuller's Earth," Wells; "Tragedy of Y," Ross; "Shadow Flies," Macaulay; "Promenade Deck," Ross; "Narrow Corner," Maugham; "Wanton Mally," Tarkington; "Anxious Days," Gibbs; "Invitation to the Waltz," Lehmann; "Flowering Wilderness," Galsworthy; "Forgive Us Our Trespasses," Douglas; "Under Northern Stars," Raine; "Nurses on Horseback," Poole.

Non-fiction—"Men Against Death," DeKruif; "Titans of Literature," Rascoe; "My Friendly Contemporaries," Garland; "Civilizing Ourselves," Martin; "Earth Horizon," Austin; "House That Freud Built," Jastrow; "Our Times," Sullivan; "Charlotte Bronte," Benson.

VISITOR SAW JAPS

BOMBARD SHANGHAI

Mrs. D. W. Cardell arrived this week from Japan, where she has been spending sometime with her husband in Japan, China and Manila, to visit with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lovell of 235 Wilson avenue. Mrs. Cardell, who was in Shanghai when it was bombed, has many interesting stories to relate. She is a well-known radio entertainer in Honolulu. She will visit in Sierra Madre until February, when she expects to return to the Orient to join her husband.

Hot Lead

By Norman B. Jensen

THE Legion Dugout was the setting for many scenes at last Monday night's assembly. Flames leaped up and licked the back wall of the big fireplace as flashes of firelight supplemented the constant glow of electric lights. The multi-colored war posters and the bright steel of many bayonets seemed to take on life as they reflected the lights from the blazing wood. The intermittent flashes were like an orchestra leader's baton leading the tempo of the meeting as Commander Caukin's gavel swung heavily to the pedestal as an opening gesture.

Our first duty, the care and comfort of our sick and disabled comrades, interested all present as reports were made by the sick and relief committee. Comrade Roy Pickett reported that Comrade Benjamin has been rated as a total disability and entitled to government aid to help him in his fight for health.

Comrade A. L. Kugler, 18th District Night Base Ball Chairman, was honor guest. He praised Sierra Madre Post for its work in the Legion's night ball contest of 1932 and commended Comrade Waverly E. Pratt for his help in organizing teams throughout the 18th district. Comrade Kugler is a member of our neighborhood Post in Arcadia and an ardent worker for the district baseball activity.

Seven visitors were presented to the Post by Commander Caukin and helped to make our meeting a lively one. They were, Comrades C. L. Kugler, Roy A. Linn, M. P. Livingston, Foster C. Bumpus, Clay Mather Bell, Dr. Frank M. Wilson and Ralph V. Colbert.

Two of them, Clay Mather Bell and Doctor Wilson, joined Sierra Madre Post 297 when they were voted in later in the evening and were received into the post by Commander Caukin.

Comrade Dr. Frank M. Wilson, physician and surgeon, graduated from St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons and returned to his native state, California, to accept an appointment in the Los Angeles City Police Hospital. He enlisted in the U.S. Navy in April 1917, and was transferred to Hampton Roads, Va., where he was assigned to the transport Pocahontas. The Pocahontas was the first American transport to have a gun fire battle with a submarine. No damage resulted.

He served overseas at St. Nazaire, Bordeaux and Brest, France, where he overworked and had a breakdown resulting in his being returned to the Portsmouth Naval Hospital. When Comrade Dr. Wilson recovered he went to Massachusetts Institute of Technology for a course in aviation. He came home to Los Angeles after he was discharged and organized the Medical Detachment of the 160 Infantry, receiving a commission as Captain in the National Guard. Doctor Wilson maintains offices in Los Angeles and Sierra Madre and is a very welcome member of Sierra Madre Post.

Comrade Clay Mather Bell is a disabled veteran with a very colorful and exciting war experience which will be printed in Hot Lead next week.

"Carry On"

A. L. A. Activities

By Dorothy Shetler

LATEST NEWS! The A.L.A. is going to be "air-minded." The publicity chairman has a new sister chairman now in the person of Helen "Candy" Smith. This is an entirely new branch in the local unit. Anything pertaining to Auxiliary Radio programs will be in charge of Helen (except the static that belongs to other broadcasts). Our nearest stations are KNX, Tuesdays at 7:45 p.m.; KFAC, Mondays at 7 p.m. Hereafter address Mrs. Smith as Mrs. Radio Chairman. And tell her if you want to go on the "air" and take a chance on getting "mille fricht!"

More latest news! Another brand new chairman. This branch is Dramatic Arts under the supervision of Lillian Wheeler. Are we now going to have fun? Mrs. Wheeler informs your publicist that a date will be set soon, to start organizing the A.L.A. talent. If you ever had a yen to out-Garbo Greta herself, or teach Paderewski how a piano should be manipulated, or can croon a mean blue note, be on the job and take part. Don't dare to say you haven't the ability. If you can't sing, dance or yodel there is always an opening for a good scene shifter. So all you future Chattertons, Dresslers, Ponselles, Galli-Campis, Etting, and feminine Bing Crosbys, John Barrymores, Harry Laurels, et caetra don't lose another chance to be a hero.

Also—some talk has been heard about having a monthly dance for the Legion and Auxiliary in the Headquarters. Just a gratis affair for this winter to teach the non-dancers how to ankle around and give the present dancers an opportunity to learn the rumba, Balboa and son and such. Wouldn't you like to learn the dernier cri on Terpsichorean art and all its modern innovations—ahem. Also how to swing through a Square Dance?

Page Dr. Wilson—as you remember he won the solid tin banjo as a bunco prize. At that time he promised to oblige with some hot-cha strumming when we decided to hold an old-fashioned quadrille.

On Saturday, December 3, the Junior A.L.A. held its regular meeting in the Legion Rooms. Nine girls were present. Part of the afternoon was spent in making scrap-books for the San Fernando Hospital nursery. The girls request that every one save the gaily colored pictures in magazines. Phone 252-3 and a Junior will call for them. A Christmas Committee was formed with President Marjorie Stinman as chairman, with Fernelle Hill, Grace Jensen, Mary Lou Lovejoy and Muriel Downs as assistants.

The A.L.A. received a bolt of outing cloth from the Red Cross to cut and sew. Sewers get busy and help make the pajamas, etc., so necessary, locally.

Five dozen of delicious cookies were sent to the A.L.A. by Mrs. Maggie and Miss Elizabeth Steinberger to serve at the big District meeting.

The Executive Board met at the home of President Barker, November 30th. After the business of the evening was disposed of, a social time followed. The table was prepared for 10 and delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Louise Roe kept one end of the table in laughter, while Mrs. Elizabeth Goodier kept gales of giggling going at the other end.

Yours Truly helped serve a waffle breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Walters, at Azusa for the 18th District Dance committee on Sunday. Was also present at the District Dance at Covina Saturday, December 3rd. They have great times at the District Dances and the committee urge you to be present. Each dance will be held by a different Post.

Oh golly—our Area (the 4th) won the Burlap kimona and Area President Mabel Henderson is first to wear it. Our District must now hustle and get in more members before the other four sister districts, else Lora Smithson, 18th District President, will get it. And in that case the Sierra Madre President may get it. Don't let that happen!

Mrs. Bertha Irvine has been busy with the patients at her house. First Stanton was ill and then Legionnaire Jamse.

Three of the A.L.A. are attending night classes at the Pasadena Junior College. Lovetta Pratt is musically studious and the Marshal and Sergeant-at-Arms have been swinging dumb-bells (who said being dumb-bells) and stumbling through the Highland Fling.

And now for this edition's Portrait in Print—Helen Wolfe Fleming was born at Philadelphia, Pa. And if she isn't Candor Personified, I'm wrong for she even offered to tell me when.

After completing her schooling Helen Wolfe became a "hello" girl and advanced until she was supervisor. Then came the war and Helen changed her name to Fleming. We have a war-bride in our midst! Mrs. Fleming was employed at Camp Dix, N.J., for six months and at Camp Hill, Virginia, for four months during the war. When the influenza epidemic was at its height, Mrs. Fleming was a government telephone operator at Woodbury, N.J.

She has been in California for 13 years, residing in Sierra Madre for the past four years. She is a member of the Firemen's Auxiliary and was publicity chairman. She has been a member of the A.L.A. for three and a half years. During that time she was Sergeant-at-Arms, Treasurer, and Corresponding Secretary, and at present is on the executive board and social committee.

Helen's specialty is being in two places at one time. She takes full charge of her home and yet she manages to do a great deal in the store. Helen knows everybody and her ability as a good mixer is well-known.
